10th January 2018

I just wanted to take this opportunity to welcome you: the children and families back after a restful break. The sun has certainly come out for us today and we have had a full day of learning through our topic work and catching up with our friends at break times. I feel very privileged to be your new Headteacher even though I have worked here for over three years as the Deputy and SENCO and Co-Head. The warm atmosphere and constant drive for improvement at Tatworth make it a very special place.

I wanted to share with you my commitment to continue to build on Tatworth's success and progress, and my drive for continually making improvements to allow every child to achieve and enjoy their education. Your child will be placed at the heart of everything we do. We know how valuable each day at school is, so we want all of our children to be happy, safe and to access an exciting and broad curriculum. The Spring and Summer term timetables are already filling up with exciting visits and visitors and new events for our children, which no doubt, you will hear about in due course.

I want to work closely with families and so plan to have drop-in sessions where you can come in for a chat or to ask questions you may have. These will be added to the newsletter, but will be monthly on the first Tuesday afternoon of each month. The first will therefore be Tuesday 6th February at 2.15 to 3.30 pm. Of course this does not take away from making an appointment to see me at any other time or indeed catching me for a quick question if I am available.

Please feel free to pop in if there is anything you would like to discuss.
